WE HOPE YOU REGISTERED—

Today is the last day for registration before the primaries. If you were registered and did not name your party affiliation, you cannot vote August 25.

For many of the candidates this is a matter of no importance but for those who have opponents, it is vitally important.

Russell, opposed by Patterson for assemblyman, may be the victim of your not having registered in time, since the race between the two will be over August 25.

Russell is an excellent man, a man from our own territory, and should carry the Republican votes on this peninsula 100 per cent.

HOW ABOUT THE JAIL—

Let's bring out the subject of the much needed city jail for Carmel. We know it isn't a popular theme, but it has come to be a NECESSITY.

We must let the law violators go, and let the aged and the childen take their chances with the more agile and alert in getting across the streets in safety, or we must provide a place to keep the increasing number of violators until their cases can be heard in court.

Monterey permits Carmel to use her jail, at no cost, but should there be no accomodations left there, then what? Monterey officials formerly saw to it that Carmel prisoners were fed. We have been told that sometimes they do now and sometimes they do not, often calling up late in the day to tell officers here their prisoners have not been fed and are hollering for eats. Some day some prisoner is going to sue Carmel for being imprisoned and kept without food.

The Carmel police are now compelled to be taxi drivers, truck drivers and waiters. Their time is taken in traveling between Carmel and Monterey. What do you think about it?

ROOSEVELT—BALONEY

We often hear, "I'm for Roosevelt because he has done so much good for the country." Has he done so much good for the country? He has increased the taxes, and the working man, on relief or not, must pay 70 per cent of the full amount. He has lowered wages by setting an average monthly wage of $46 on which he has hoodwinked the public into thinking a man can "live the more abundant life." He has frightened business so that we have not made definite strides toward recovery; he has set up class against class, and by no possible means can we find any excuse other than a desire on his part to loom high in the eyes of the laboring class to get more votes. Enough money has been poured out of the United States Treasury not only to have made

SANITARY BOARD READY TO PRESENT SEWER QUESTION

Readers of the Californian have had the opportunity the past three weeks of reading the reports of Hugh Comstock in regard to the sanitary system of this district.

Along with others of the district, the board feels that the time is at hand to bring the matter before the voters, according to the following communication:

The Carmel Sanitary District Board, unanimously and unreservedly, is in favor of immediate action and acceptance of the recommendations set forth in Mr. Gray's report for the needs of a sewer disposal system. The board feels it should take steps at once to hold a bond election so that the unsanitary and disgraceful conditions on our beach can be corrected at the earliest possible time.

In taking this action the Board wishes to point out the following facts:

That the present board starting from scratch has approached this subject of sewer disposal unprejudiced and open-minded at all times:

That it has given unlimited time and careful deliberation in the study of the problems involved:

And that it has employed the very finest engineering ability in the State to provide the data on which to base its decisions and draw

Morse, Baker, Tickle and Russell, Speak at Meet

One of the most enthusiastic political gatherings ever held in Carmel was that at the Pine Inn last Monday evening when S. F. B. Morse, Alonzo F. Baker, Senator Ed Tickle and Henry P. Russell addressed an audience of more than 200 persons.

Jorn Jordan, presiding, first introduced S. F. B. Morse who told some interesting things of the Republican convention he recently attended, which, he stated, will go dow in history as the most determined and serious and different from any other ever held by the Republicans. Mr. Morse said there was no question about who the candidate would be, and it was a foregone conclusion that Landon was the man for the presidency from the first day of the convention, although some of the California delegates were somewhat wrought up over the local situation.

Morse praised Landon for his determined stand on the platform of the party.

Knox is a two-fisted, self-made man, who has worked his way up, and Morse assured his audience they would like him.

In criticizing the platform, people should bear in mind that it is not easy to formulate a document acceptable to so many states with such divergent interests, according to Morse, who is confident the Republicans have a strong platform.

Mr. Morse made it clear that Alonzo Baker had been endorsed by the Eighth Congressional committee for the office of representative because they felt he was the best fitted for the place and that they knew he was a good Republican and what his party policies were.

"Baker has filed only on the Republican ticket; is 100 per cent Republican and will not attempt to carry water on both shoulders in the congressional race," said Morse, who further stated, "How a man can be FOR and AGAINST the New Deal is beyond my conception."

"Do we want to continue the form of government that has brought us this far, or do we want to abandon it?" asked Morse, who made it plain that the constitution as it stands suits him. "There is no doubt the president intends to change the balance of power; those close to him do not deny that is in the back of his mind; there are more of the good things of life in this than any other country; we are a people who need independence and our liberty; any American will take a chance of getting ahead in this world in preference of a mere guaranty that he business good, had it been properly handled, but to have started the country on a boom. We find big money going to heads of relief agencies while the laborer himself is paid a few paltry dollars to keep body and soul together; we find enormous sums going to big concerns for not raising, pigs, cotton, etc. We charge Roosevelt's entire reign has been one of misdirected efforts as far as real relief goes, and a grand effort to have Mr. Roosevelt re-elected to serve as a dictator over our splendid nation. The people of this country do not need a dictator and will not entrust their future to the whims and fallacies of any one man, however much Mr. Roosevelt may desire to run things to suit himself.

EITHER FOR OR AGAINST—

Sam Morris struck the keynote of every sensible thinking person in these United States when he said, "How can a man be FOR and AGAINST the New Deal?" when speaking of a candidate who is running on both the Democratic and Republican tickets.

This year, as never before, a man is either for or against, he is simply not interested, or is afraid to take a stand. To attempt to straddle the fence is to make oneself a target for both sides and is merely an effort to please everybody, which cannot be done.

SHERLOCK BROTHERS MOVE TO 570 MUNRAS STREET

After being located for the past year on the Salinas highway near the Del Monte Hotel, Walter and Charles Sherlock have moved to 570 Munras and have enlarged their business.

They are nowengaged in selling new and used tires, wholesale and retail, and already many customers are finding their way to their place of business.

Both young men are exceedingly likeable and will soon take the place they deserve in the community.

Californiana from Old Files and Other Sources

Last week through Californiana, the story of the founding of the Mission San Francisco de Asis, taken from the "Missions and Missionaries of California," by Englehardt was given. The story continues this week and tells of the beginnings of the Presidio of San Francisco:

"On July 26th the lieutenant with the main body of soldiers and immigrants removed to the presidio site (from the mission) and began the construction of temporary huts of brushwood and tules. The first structure was a chapel. There Fr. Palou on July 28, 1776, celebrated the first holy mass.

"Meanwhile the San Carlos waited for the return of the courier who had been despatched to San Diego to obtain Rivera's permission for removing two cannon from the Monterey presidio to the fort in the north, as directed by the viceroy. When he arrived, she sailed out but heavy storms drove her as far as the latitude of San Diego. Captain Quiros sailed from there back to the north, proceeded to 42 degrees, and then sailed down the coast in search of the harbor. During the night of August 17th, the vessel anchored off Pt. Reyes, but the next morining she passed through the Golden Gate a second time. Captain Quiros, the two pilots, and Fr. Jose Nocedal, the chaplain, were the first to set foot on the shore near the new colony. Work was immediately begun on permanent buildings after a plan drawn by Jose Canizares. The result was a square measuring 82 varas, or about 250 feet on every side. It contained the chapel, rooms for the officers, the barracks for the soldiers and their families, storehouse, guardhouse and the apartments for the colonists. The walls of these buildings were constructed of timber palisades; the roofs were covered with tules. As soon as the work on the presidio was well under way. Captain Quiros, Fr. Nocedal, one of the pilots, the ship surgeon, and six sailors went over to the mission site in order to assist in erecting a permanent chapel and a house for the missionaries after the style employed at the fort. These structures were finished by the middle of September.

"The feast of the Impression of the Wounds of St. Francis, Sept. 17, was chosen for the dedication and formal occupation of the military post and colony. The ceremony of the formoal opening of the mission was postponed to the feast of St. Francis, October 4th. It will be remembered that Captain Rivera, for reasons of his own and the oft repeated desire of the viceroy, had directed that the founding of the mission should be put off until further notice. Inasmuch as the will of Bucareli was well known, Lt. Moraga and Fr. Palou seemed to have resolved to brave the wrath of the erratic captain, and to push the work to completion, but yet waited to have his word for the formal dedication.

"In the presence of the people of the presidio, the mission camp, and most of the sailors from the San Carlos, Fr. Francisco Palou finally blessed and raised the great cross. He then sang the solemn High Mass, assisted by Fr. Benito Cambon, Fr. Jose Nocedal, and Fr. Tomas de la Pena who had come up from Monterey to select a site for Mission Santa Clara. Thereupon formal possession was taken in the name of the King of Spain. The ceremonies concluded with the singing of Te Deum while the bells announced the joyful news, the cannons boomed, and the soldiers fired their muskets. The remainder of the day was devoted to such feasting and amusements as the circumstances and means afforded.

HATHAWAYS TO ENTERTAIN AT TEA SUNDAY-MONDAY

Col. and Mrs. C. E. Hathaway will entertain at tea Sunday at their home at Antonio and Eighth, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Matthews who have just moved into their beautiful new home on San Antonio. Neighbors and army folk will be the guests.

On Monday afternoon, the Hathaways will again entertain at tea, having as honor guests Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Burchard, of El Paso, Texas.

E. A. Stankrauff and wife of Tekonsha, Mich., stopped in Carmel this week on their way from Los Angeles to San Francisco and called on Perry Newberry for a visit, discussing mutual friends from Perry's old home town, Coldwater, Mich. Mr. Stankrauff is editor of a weekly paper. He stated that he was told in Fresno that he must not return east without seeing Carmel and he felt amply repaid for his trip, not only with seeing this city but by locating Mr. Newberry.

JOHN MORTON, 77, DIES AT CARMEL HOME FRIDAY

Carmel friends sympathize with Mrs. Mary Morton, an employe in the Welsh real estate office, in the death of her husband last Friday morning. The following details are taken from the Monterey Herald of Friday, July 10:

Carmel lost another distinguished citizen today, in the death of John Morton, who passed away at his home this morning aged 77.

He had lived here for the last 11 years, following a life filled with varied and interesting experiences, and those admitted to the circle of his friendship found him ever a delightful and stimulating companion.

Previous to coming here he was engaged in the contracting business for about 35 years in San Mateo, and before that was in the same business for many years in Chicago.

Besides the widow, Mrs. Mary K. Morton, he leaves three sons and a daughter; John D. and Ben Morton, both of San Mateo; Frew Morton and Mrs. Ellen B. Scott of San Franisco.

The Rev. Stewart C. Potter, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will conduct the funeral service which will take place at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Freeman mortuary chapel, followed by cremation at Santa Cruz.

CARL BURROWS BUILDING HOME IN WALKER NO. 1

Carl Burrows and wife will soon be enjoying their new home to be erected in Walker Tract No. 1, according to Guy Koepp, architect.

The first floor will provide living room, breakfast room, kitchen, dining room, maid's room and service room, while on the second floor there will be three bedrooms and two bathrooms.

The house will be Norman style, of plaster and stucco construction, with heavy shake roof.

The central heating plant, two-car-garage, brick terraces and marvelous view will all go towards making the home a credit to the community.

Credit Where Credit is Due

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman Sentinels of the Republic

Who is doing the real work that leads America toward Recovery?

During recent weeks we've heard many answers to that question. Headlines have bristled with claims and counter-claims . . . with reports of speeches that give the credit to political officeholders . . . with statements that would award the honor to the prophets of strange and unproved economic theories.

But amid the thunders of oratory the true claimant is ignored.

He is the man who, while politicians clamored and theorists argued, continued quietly, faithfully, effectively to do the day's work; to support himself, his family—and America.

He is the man—whether farmer or hired help, merchant or clerk, executive or mechanic—under whose hand and care the fields maintained their yield, the products of farm and factory kept moving, the wheels of industry continued to revolve.

He is the man who earned and paid the taxes—direct or indirect—that kept this country a going concern and met the payrolls of the political jobholders who would take the credit unto themselves.

He isn't one man. He represents millions of self-reliant citizens who maintain and support and operate the homes and the farms and the workshops of America.

He is the type that built America in the past, that is upholding America in the present, that will make America more glorious in the future.

Individually, he is the real American.

Collectively he is the Real America.

Let the political and economic soothsayers continue their claims and their promises.

But, meanwhile, let's give credit where credit is due.

HIDDEN TAXES SOAK WORKERS!

THIS PICTOGRAPH shows how huge Hidden Taxes soak the average man. Added to the cost of things he buys—Hidden Taxes—must be paid by the consumer. The New Deal has nearly tripled these. In 1932 they brought in only 781 million dollars. By 1935 Hidden Taxes had reached the enormous sum of 2,232 million dollars. This was nearly double what they were during the war.

In 1930, taxes on the well-to-do contributed 68 per cent of the Internal Revenue and customs receipts, Hidden Taxes 32 per cent. By 1935 this situation had been reversed. Hidden Taxes contributed 61 per cent, taxes on the well-to-do, 39 per cent.

MISS MARION KINGSLAND IS HOSTESS AT DINNER

With Judge Lewis Worden of New York as the guest of honor, Miss Marion Kingsland entertained at dinner Saturday night at the Monterey Peninsula Country club. Judge Worden arrived in Carmel to officiate at the dog show held at Del Monte last Sunday and was a co-worker with E. E. Ferguson of Hollywood, Mr. and Mrs. I. Buckman of Sacramento and Mrs. Hill of San Francisco, who were also guests at the dinner.

Among the other workers at Sunday's fashionable event, were Misses Helen Heavey, Margaret Stebbins, Grace Daly and Mollie Parsons who with Dr. Edward Kehr, Mr. Peterson, Carl Van Saltzer, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Dixon and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton enjoyed the evening with the out of town guests.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Canoles (June Delight) and family have returned to Carmel after a most delightful vacation spent at the State Park in Big Sur. Mr. Canoles assisted with looking after the Boy Scouts during their encampment there.

PHILIP WILSON, JR. IS HOST AT PICNIC SUNDAY

The lovely Walker Tract No. 1 was the scene of a jolly gathering Sunday afternoon when about ninety persons were guests of Philip Wilson, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Walker. Assisting Mr. Wilson and Mrs. Walker were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Work, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Carl Burrows, Mrs. Marian Bryant, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Van Sant.

The Van Sants, the Works and the Burrowses have purchased lots in this beautiful tract at the end of Junipero near Mission, overlooking Carmel Valley and the Mission and will soon be enjoying their homes there.

The natural beauty of this tract provides a wonderful setting of attractive homes, which seem to be the keynote of the proposed buildings.

Elder Harold Monson of Pacific Grove, president of this district of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, leaves Monday to attend the fair at San Diego. He will meet his mother and three sisters of Salt Lake City there and they will return with him for a visit on the peninsula.

SUNBEAMS

THE REAL ROOSEVELT

To many people our President is a glorified personality, endowed with all of the virtues, possessed of an unlimited omniscience, motivated by a high idealism and sustained by a conscience and character of impeccable probity.

To some extent he has contributed to this delusion. His beguiling simulations of sympathy, his platitudinous phrases, such as the "Forgotton Man" and "More Abundant Life" have registered deeply with the simple minded and naive multitudes. His feigned concern for the under privileged, uncompromising attitude against employers, industrialists and business men and his apparent solicitude for Labor has made him almost a Messiah. His tearful tones, glib epigrams and "smiling through" the strenuous ordeals of his office have not been in vain. Clever acting, fine showmanship are profitable to his purpose.

He has had splendid support in creating this fantasy. An elaborate and very expensive publicity bureau (for which the public pays) has capitalized all of his 'antics, smiles and have cleverly tansformed his many blunders into triumphs. While he has exalted himself, these paid sycophants anoint him with the scented oils of sancity and sapience. Behold we have produced the Super Man.

Seen through the colored lens of credulity, partisan prejudice and stupid hero worship Franklin Delano Roosevelt assumes a dignity and character, which if genuine, would fully merit our admiration.

But unfortunately — when one scans with the appraising eye of fact and candor much of the synthetic glamour vanishes. We find insincerity, a facile and an elastic conscience — in short a crafty, scheming politician ever ready to adopt the technique of that ilk. Example: his recent appointment of two federal judges in New York, Clancy and Mendelbaum, Tammany characters and so notoriusly unfit that the Bar Association protested as did Senator Copeland. The World-Telegram of New York, a consistent defender of the President made indignant protest.

Facing almost certain defeat Franklin Delano does not hesitate to debauch the judiciary in order to win Tammany support. But this is only one instance. They could be assembled in a legion. How about his Air Mail incident? Cancelling contracts to create prejudice, incidentally expending the lives of twelve fine young men and costing the people millions for damages and penalties. The hero stuff is off. We have a practical politician as President.

The "Forgotten Man", the American Tax payer. It is he that puts up for the "Fishing Trips" of $300,000, when F. D. R. grows weary of the sycophantic caresses of his Communistic cabal and yearns for relaxation. But the public pays the bill.

"Abundant Lift" that luxuriant ease enjoyed by Tugwell, Frank and other Communistic agitators at public expense. Incendiaries and Arsonists on the public payroll.

"Intrenched Greed", that inflamed yearning for power, to become a Dictator, to regiment American like Russia.

"The New Order" a people wearing the manacles of serfdom, prostrated with indebtedness and reduced to a common mass of dependent state morons.

"The Good Neighbor" Russia. A condition of universal regimentation and vasalage.

"Emergency" any excuse to Tammanyize America and to perpetuate Roosveltism.

"Relief" using human misery to exploit a political advantage.

"Yard Stick" the limit of public tolerance to wholesale graft, extravagance and boondoggling.

"Recovery" spending the peoule's money to simulate prosperity.

"Protecting Labor" passing unconstitutional laws to arouse class hatred and ferment strikes.

"Balancing the Budget" padding the assets and omitting the Liabilities.

"We are on Our Way" to bankruptcy and repudiation.

"We have done Something" and generations yet unborn will revile your name and excreate your deeds. You created Chaos out of Order, destroyed the credit of the nation by repudiating contracts and defaulting obligations. You betrayed confidence,, broke promises and attempted to buy and bribe the American electorate with its own money. You established a Bureaucracy of political parasites instead of reducing the public payroll. You created a scarcity by destruction which forced us to import the things you maliciously destroyed. You paid the people's hard earned money to foreign corporations, you imposed a tax on poverty and paid subsidies to wealthy producers. You Did a Plenty. America, if it ever recovers from all the reckless waste, profligate squandering, political jobbery and brazen appropriation of public money for personal and party purposes will feel the blight of the New Deal for centuries. Greece and Rome succumbed to similar Demagogues but Young, Virile and Courageous America will survive. Landon and Knox will lead us out of the tundras of Debt you contracted.

YOUR BOY AND MINE

When your lad packs off to school you no doubt have some vision as to his future. Of course you realize that the New Deal has firmly riveted manacles on him. What are his prospects? Why worry? Vote for the New Deal. Hasten the day of the show down. A Dictatorship, then some form of Communism. Possibly your son may rate a place in the Comintern and if he is of a stern type may preside at a liquidation fiesta, allotting subjects for the firing squads. Your daughter, if a robust type may find her niche in the state breeding farm, on a par with the Holstein heifers and Poland China females. These pleasing fancies may come to you as the youngsters pass out of your sight on the way to school. Why? Rotten politics for which we are all responsible. Vote intelligently, not like a party pawn or puppet. America is all right if the people will do their duty.

HUMANITARIANS, IN LIMBO AND AT LARGE

Scattered about in the various penal instutions of the country may be found characters who were formerly treasurers of Building and Loan associations, bank cashiers and custodians of funds of one kind or another. They betrayed their trusts, that is they embezzled, used moneys in an unauthorized and illegal manner. They may have made some generous contributions to charity and were considered by many as living examplars of Prince Bountiful. They had been elected to protect not to squander, to improve and not to impoverish, to administrate economically and not to plunge their enterprises into Debt and Disaster. Regardless of their Robin Hood benevolences an outraged public demanded that they be brought to trial, they were convicted and are now serving sentences. As we think of these transgressors now in prison garb a certain analogy occurs to us. What of a Governor of a State who betrays his trust, loots the treasury thru reckless and extravagant projects and creates unnecessary and costly bureaus. Isn't that malfeasance? Or any great executive who deliberately builds up indebtedness, scatters largess and wantonly wastes the public's money? He may have of course a philanthropic side and established himself a reputation as a Great Humanitarian. But the fact remains that he did it with other people's money, without their sanction and for his own personal aggrandizement. Any crook, criminal or daring adventurer can achieve renown as a good fellow so long as some one else pays the bills. Even Al Capone is said to have given liberally to the needy out of the increment of his pillaging.

BOY SCOUT SUMMER CAMP AN UNUSUAL SUCCESS

In an official report to the Executive Board of the Monterey Bay Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, it was pointed out that the council-operated camp, recently ended had produced 14 additional junior life-savers among whom were Herbert Cohen, 80 and Ralph Pietrobono, 77, Monterey.

In addition, hundreds of scouts either learned how to swim or were taught advanced swimming, under the supervision of Warren P. Tormen, American Red Cross Life-Saving examiner.

No major illness or casualties occurred during the entire four weeks encampment and an unusually small number of minor cases were recorded this year. The average gain in weight was 2.7 pounds per scout, the maximum gain being 10.5 pounds.

Hundreds of articles of craftwork were produced by the scouts in woodcarving, leatherwork, boondoggling, stamping and tooling, leather pioneer vests, and other craft.

DROUTH EMPHASISES FOLLY OF NEW DEAL 'SCARCITY'

Drouth disaster, plus artificial crop restriction, for the second time in three years is demonstrating the fallacy of the New Deal theory of "economic scarcity" writes Frank Ridgeway, agricultural editor of the Chicago Tribune.

Ridgeway declared that it was difficult for many to believe that crops are again being destroyed so that farmers can qualify for payments under the new federal soil law, when the country is faced with a shortage of human foods and livestock feeds and foreign grown farm products are being imported into the United States in increasing amounts.

"Farmers have a feeling of protest against being forced to clip or pasture their green oats to prevent them from maturing a crop of seed, or to plow under tons of green soy beans that would make needed food for live stock this winter," Ridgeway said. He cited some instances of Illinois farmers who decided not to plow under their soy beans to receive government checks for $12 an acre when they could make $15 an acre by harvesting the beans and selling them.

A definite swing away from President Roosvelt since the Democratic national convention at Philadelphia is indicated in the latest poll reported by the "American Institute of Public Opinion."

On June 7 the Gallup poll showed the President as having 56 per cent of the popular vote against the field. With the campaigns definitely under way following the national conventions the poll released July 12 showed the President's popular vote as having been reduced to 51.8 per cent and having shrunk more in some cases in states normally Republican or doubtful.

A survey conducted among 3,000 persons in every walk of life by Fortune magazine indicated that after three years of the New Deal 59 per cent of the persons questioned feel that they are no better off.

UTAH PIONEERS WILL BE HONORED AT FAIR

The March of the Mormon batallion from Fort Leavenworth to San Diego 90 years ago, said to be the longest infantry march in history will be commemorated the evening of Sunday, July 26, in a pageant to be given at the San Diego Exposition, honoring the Utah pioneers and the Latter Day Saints church.

The Mormons, although driven out of their homes in the East and compelled to find refuge in an unknown section, responded to their nation's call to a war against Mexico, and marched 500 strong amid great hardships and suffering to serve their country.

These and many other interesting facts will be depicted in the pageant.

The program will begin Friday, the 24th with a big Mormon parade and during the afternoon there will be a musical program wherein many prominent musicians will join and Alexander Schreiner, organist at the tabernacle, will preside at the organ.

On Sunday, the 26th, there will be a Vesper hour when Reed Smoot, ex senator, and apostle of the church, will speak. Secretary of War George Dern will also speak sometime during the celebration.

HENRY RUSSELL WILL JUDGE SAN MATEO HORSE SHOW

M. Henry P. Russell owner of the H. H. ranch in Carmel Valley and prominent breeder of blooded horses has been asked by the San Mateo County National Horse Show association who will hold a horse show at the Menlo Circus Club, Menlo Park, California, August 8th to 15th inclusive to judge the thoroughbred breeding division on Sunday morning, August 9th. This show is of national importance and brings here the best horseflesh in the country for exhibition. Mr. Russell has been breeding thoroughbred horses for years and his being selected as judge is an honor to this area. Mr. Henry P. Russell is the Republican candidate for Assemblyman from Monterey county.

1.000 BOYS RECEIVING TRAINING AT PRESIDIO

With more than a week of intensive training completed, at the Monterey Presidio announcement has been made at the Citizen's Military Training Camp of the assignment and classification of candidates enrolled in the four year course. The current camp continues until August 4th.

During the first week the 1,000 boys reporting were given thorough physical examinations which only 5 per cent failed to pass successfully. Those accepted for duty received their uniforms and equipment, were quartered in their tents, and placed under instructions in the field within 48 hours of their arrival.

In addition to the customary military drill the training program provides for classes in citizenship, hygiene, first aid and instructional methods. Athletics occupy a prominent place in the recreational life at the camp, with competitive sports scheduled daily under the supervision of special athletic officers.

Welfare activities at the camp are under the direction of Major Charles C. Merrill, post Chaplain, who also conducts regular church services for the C.M.T.C. regiment.

The C.M.T.C. regiment is composed of five infantry rifle companies, one machine gun company, two troops of cavalry and one battery of field artillery. The following local youths are enrolled:

THE LOW DOWN from HICKORY GROVE

I don't know what you folks think about it, but to me, she has sorta' commenced to look like maybe we are going to be out of this here present age of goofyness, we been flounderin around in. I don't savvy a whole lot about economics but as I amble around the country and kinda' listen to what's goin' on, I sorta' pick up a smatterin' of whats in the air.

You know, it's not a bad idea to listen lots, and believe just about so much. If you was to give all your attention to these gabbers at our noon lunch clubs, you would be plain miserable.

I'm commencin' to gather the impression that the country is regaining its equilibrium after all, and that before much more damage is done, we are going back to the idea that we better use just good horsesense and see what will happen.

Yours, with the low-down.

AMERICAN LEGION TO BE HONORED AT EXPOSITION

With the honor of representing the state in the all-American championships at the national legion convention in Cleveland at stake, drum and bugle corps from almost every county will complete in spectacular contests during the California State Convention in Hollywood early next month.

The gigantic musical conclave will be staged in the Gilmore Stadium, seating 30,000 persons, on August 10, with the public admitted to the ceremony, which promises to be one of the largest and most colorful contest of the kind ever staged anywhere.

In addition to deciding the drum and bugle corps championships in the finals at 7:30 o'clock that night, band, drumming, bugling and rifle drill team champions for the state of California will be named. In the contests, drum and bugle corps from the Southern California section which have announced their intention of furnishing competition for the rest of the state include those of Los Angeles, Long Beach, Riverside, San Gabriel, Santa Ana, Santa Monica, the 91st Division, and Harmony Post, all members of the California Corps and Band association.

The American Legion Auxiliary will stage their drill team contests at a Hollywood high school and their musical competition at the El Capitan theatre during the day. Other spectacular competition during the convention includes rifle and pistol matches for the legionnaire and civilian state championships and a legion golf tournament.

Starting with a spectacular opening memorial ceremony in the famed Hollywood Bowl, the night of August 9, one of the most pretentious programs ever scheduled for a convention of any kind has been prepared, including sports activities midnight theatre parties, Griffith Park Observatory lectures, boxing and wrestling events and innumerable other festivities of a patriotic and social nature. History will be made with the business sessions of the convention held on a giant sound stage of the Warner Brothers Sunset boulevard studio transformed into a convention hall for the occasion.

America from a land of harmony, kindly tolerance, mutual sympathy, unlimited opportunities, has been transformed into an armed camp of spies, of discord and discontent, of hatreds and pejudice. The Communistic doctrines of the New Deal have spread the poison of Prejudice. SAVE AMERICA.

OLD BRYAN PAPER BOLTS ROOSEVELT AND NEW DEAL

The Omaha World-Herald, for 50 years one of the leading Democratic newspapers of the Middle West and once edited by William Jennings Bryan has definitely stamped itself as opposed to President Roosevelt and the New Deal policies his administration stands for.

"Mr. Roosevelt as earnestly and passionately as Hitler once did, assails our own capatalistic system," says the World-Herald editorial.

"By his sweeping onslaught Mr. Roosevelt has precipitated uncompromising war between the government he heads and private enterprise . . .

"And just as long as that war rages, the billions of credit and money tied up in the banks, idle and unused, will remain idle and unused. The millions of idle workers will remain idle, unless it be on public labor . . .

"This newspaper believes the American system, both economic and political is not so desperately sick, so hopeless beyond cure, that it is necessary to kill and replace it with an order alien to our traditions, repugnant to all our aspirations."

COMMUNISTS IN THE U. S. NOT A POLITICAL PARTY

"We must get out of our heads, once and for all time, the idea that Communists in America are a political party," declares Bernarr McFadden, publisher of Liberty magazine, in an editorial in the May 23 issue.

"They are nothing of the kind. They are a revolutionary junta working day and night to overthrow our society and government— not by ballots, but by a bloody uprising of an armed minority in an hour of crisis. To print their ballots out of public funds is a crime against law and order. It should be stopped. In more than one European country it is now a felony to preach Communism or to join one of its "sells." It should be so here.

"For they would not only smash our business world; they would destroy the church, the home, our liberty and our ideals, and blot the name of God from human speech. And on the ruins of it all they would build a great hogpen with a common slop-trough.

"They would give us equality— yes—and there would be no more unemployment. Of course not. All men and women would be compelled to work under the lash of a Soviet overseer. Millions of slaves driven by a little group of masters."

EPICS WOULD INSURE THE REELECTION OF ROOSEVELT

The following which came to the desk of the Californian as "An Open Letter on the Movement to Recall Gov. Merriam," has some enlightening statements about Roosvelt and the "Production for Use" movement. Read it; you'll enjoy its contents, however you may believe.

By George A. Calkins

Many thousands of loyal Epic-Democrats during the stirring days of 1934 expended a great deal of uncompensated time and effort for a cause. I was privileged to be one of these thousands of workers, toiling day and night, with little sleep, giving all I could in time, effort and money. By the prominence of the position I held in that campaign I believe no one in California today can question the sincerity of the position I take on the present attempt to recall Governor Merriam.

This recall movement so-called is not inspired by the rank and file of Epic-Democrats. It is inspired by political racketeers and patronage hounds, a group of disappointed patronage-seekers and others who hope to divert the Epic-Democratic support away from the campaign to re-elect Roosvelt. If this movement expresses the sentiment of today's remaining Epic forces I would view it with respect, but coming from the very group who themselves most bitterly fought Sinclair, I view this movement with keen suspicion and as an effort to discredit the one man in the world who today typifies the mass national movement towards Epic * * * Franklin D. Roosevelt.

I state, positively and categorically that the Epics do not want the recall, but they do want to concentrate all their time and effort in the re-election of President Roosevelt. Upton Sinclair himself, in a personal letter to me, stated (and I quote his words verbatim, for I have his letter in my possession), "The Epic Movement is not going to start a recall." I have discussed this matter several times with Senator Culbert Olson and he denies any interest in the recall. I have made a thorough investigation and find that there is not one single outstanding Democratic leader in the entire State of California who has openly endosed such a movement.

The Recall Movement is punitive in inspiration and is a menace to the real movement for Epic itself because it will divide Epic forces in this coming great struggle to re-elect President Roosevelt. Every Epic-Democrat is sorely needed in the Roosevelt camp. Every man or woman who takes part in this post-1934 election campaign (two years after the election) weakens the Roosevelt movement and strengthens the common enemy.

I have taken the personal interest in this movement against the recall because I want to see President Roosevelt re-elected. Two campaigns in California at the same time, one for the recall of Governor Mreriam and the other for the re-election of Roosevelt, will not only take a toll in active pro-Roosevelt workers, but will insure possible defeat. I honestly believe, therefore that the quickest way, the safest way and the surest way to get production for use in California and throughout the nation at this time is not by striving to recall Governor Merriam but by bending all our energies toward the election of President Roosevelt.

R. C. Tugwell in his address at the Olympic Auditorium in Los Angles, said: "If we cannot achieve unity we shall lose, and we shall deserve to lose."

Let us not make any side trips on the road to victory with President Franklin D. Roosevelt. If we don't smash this recall attempt at the very start the movement, win or loose, is bound to hold back the entire liberal movement in California. I see this situation a real deanger to real liberalism and I appeal to you all to keep our ranks undivided, shoulder to shoulder against the common enemy in our march toward a Roosvelt victory.

Giving Hollywood a Tumble

By Katherine Brocklebank

It might be a good idea for movie fans to keep their eyes on Beverly Roberts and Olivia de Haviland, two charming and talented girls who are prancing merrily upward in the list of box office favorites. They were lunching the other day at the Warner Green Room in Hollywood with Welford Beaton, the well known journalist, and strange as it seems, were betting joyously on each other, not on themselves! What's wrong with that picture?

o—o

An interesting side light on the making of Charles Chaplin's latest picture, Modern Times, was in the cutting there of. It seems that the greatest pantomimist was quite worried over hiw to cut the picture for laughs. (We never know when people are laughing at us!) Chaplain was busy gnawing his trick moustache over the problem when in waltzed Charles Furthman, screen writer, with a bran' new idea. He took the film and a sound recording outfit to San Francisco, showed the picture, made a sound track of the audience's reception, pranced back to Hollywood and he and Chaplin ran the picture with the applause sound track, and the picture was cut according to laughs. It is the first time an audience in San Francisco ever cut a picture made in Hollywood! And that sassy little French song in Modern Times, which we all enjoyed so much, just sort of sneaked up on Charlie unawares. Chaplain was clowning at Furthman's one night and when Charlie showed signs of bursting into song, Furthman turned on a phonographic recording attachment and caught the song on wax. Chaplin was dumbfounded when he heard it played back, was delighted and decided to give it a place in the picture. Must we all clown to get places?

Gail Patrick is not only one of the most beautiful girls on the screen but she has brains and personality as well. Her greatest ambition for the future is to be governor of Alabama. She has studied law, and went into pictures solely to make money to advance her career as a lawyer and a stateswoman. When a beautiful girl takes up politics, what's going to happen to the poor man? Who said anything about the weaker sex?

o—o

Speaking of running things, I'd like to run the World for about ten minutes. You wouldn't recognize the dear old place there would be so many familiar faces missing!

Mrs. Minard of San Jose has has been the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. Weldon.

ROW OVER SEASIDE GIRL LANDS MAN IN JAIL

A lot of excitement was kicked up in Carmel early Sunday morning when Eddie and Ernest LeMestes of Monterey attempted to "kidnap" Miss Mildred Perkins, 18, of Seaside, who had gone to a dance down the coast with other parties.

The men, fleeing with their victim, were overtaken by a group of Miss Perkins' friends and a general free-for-all followed, and the kidnapers apprehended in Carmel for speeding were taken to jail in Monterey.

The girl, unharmed, joined the parties with whom she had gone to the dance.

Eddie LeMestes, released on parole on charges of child neglect some time ago, will be sent to jail to serve his sentence. His brother was released.

Fact and Fancy

By Ye Country Correspondent

What a charming picture Tilly Polak makes in her door-way. Inviting. Eh! What? We can't resist dropping in for a visit.

What are those good Southern Democrats, Corum Jackson, Pat Hudgins and George Rapp doing at the Republican meeting? How come?

We hear Barney Segal has just completed his mansion. O. K. Barney, we can come to your house warming.

We saw Henry Dickinson rushing into the Post Office to extract his mail. Such a pleased look on his face. It must be another dividend.

Wonder what Jack Abernethy is chuckling about. It must be a good new story. We will see you later Jack.

Mary Weldon has such a wistful look these days. Has someone gone on his vacation?

How divinely happy Conrad Immelman looks. Beaming, we'd say, and no wonder. Wait until you meet his lovely bride!

Russell Sprague is building a home for his mother-in-law and is looking happy about it, which puts a crimp in the old mother-in-law joke.

We have just heard that the new mayor's chickens have completely gone to the dogs. Better luck next time, friend Mayor.

Charles Berkey must have had a successful vacation. He has that thoroughly exhausted and satisfied look.

Junie Clark has that "cat that swallowed the canary look" as she proudly accompanies her blue ribboned pooch. He seems to realize his advance in dogdom and is now stepping high.

Jane Burritt and Kathrine Bond were seen hi-ing over the hills bright and early. Just off to the city to see the last of Katherine Cornell in "St. Joan."

James Norman Hall of "Mutiny on the Bounty" fame, breezed into Carmel and stopped just long enough to tell the latest Tahitian news to his old friends, the Hankes of Hatton Fields.

We asked busy Miss Doris Drever how come she was assisting her parent's at Drever's Inn, since we supposed she was still on the job for the New Monterey Bakery. "O, this is my vacation, and I don't have to work," she explained.

Dommy Yates was dealt a cruel blow when he was taken unawares and ended up as a very sick pooch at the vet's. We're down on all canines who dare do this to our good friend Domino.

Mrs. C. E. Hathaway, of San Antonio and Eighth, has just returned home from a two months' visit with her son who is stationed at Fort Bliss, Texas.

MORSE, BAKER, TICKLE AND RUSSELL SPEAK AT MEET

will not starve," were some of the facts brought out by the speaker.

Alonzo Baker followed Mr. Morse with a rapid fire speech in which he did not mince matters. Following are some of the highlights in his talk:

The United States stands 25 per cent BELOW the 1929 record and the rest of the world is 16 per cent ABOVE, and they say Roosevelt is bringing us OUT of the depression.

Great Britains new buildings totalled $350,000,000 during 1935. The United States, with 2 1-2 times as great a population had a total of $70,000,000, or comparing the figures on a basis of population, 12 1-2 times as much in Great Britain as in our own country.

Great Britain has two million unemployed. At the same ratio the United States should have five million, but instead we have twelve million.

One half of the unemployed of the whole world are in the United States.

The New Deal philosophy of 1932 was "Our industrial plant is all built up, we won't build up any more but will simply manage what we already have. Our country does not not advance that way. We should have re-employment through new industry.

The plan of "plowing under" threw two million people out of work and was supposed to relieve unemployment.

If it were not for Business, big and little, none of us would have a job, and yet the New Deal does everything it can to hamper business.

We should have three and one half billions of new businesses each year, but in 1935 we had one-ninth of that amount. Twenty per cent of our population is on relief. The WPA policy has dragged the wage scale down.

The WPA worke is paid an average of $46 a month, how can a man live a "more abundant life" on $46 a month. Nobody has put as bad a crimp in wages is Franklin D. Roosevelt. Roosevelt says we are going to have permanent unemployment.

Roosevelt has increased taxes. How will the increase in taxes help the common man, who pays 70 per cent of ALL taxes?

If we take all the big fortunes to pay the taxes of the nation, it would pay 50 per cent the first year. After the first year the common man will pay 100 per cent of the taxes because the fortunes will all be gone.

A job in San Mateo was bid on by a private company fo $130. WPA did it for $2900. Who will pay the difference? The common man.

Roosevelt advocates class warfare and tries to stir up the have-nots against the haves.

Senator Tickle followed Mr. Baker and asked that he be returned to office on his record of having "brought home the bacon." He urged the Rpublicans to stand by their party calling to mind how they put into office Woodrow Wilson, who "Keep us out of war," and we are now paying for the depression brought on by that war. All institutes of the state, are over-crowded, under-manned and under-supplied, according to Senator Tickle and the question of what to do about it will come before the people soon.

Henry P. Russell concluded the speaking by making it clear to all assembled that for him to have a chance in the November election the Republicans must stand by him in the primary, since he is opposed by Patterson who is running on all tickets.

Russell reiterated that he is in politics for what he can put into it, and not for what he can take out.

Mr. Russell has had a lot of business and a lot of farm experience and will make an able representative.

It was announced at the meeting that Baker will go on a national hookup over KQW after the primaries.

BALDWIN McGAW AND EMMA KNOX ENTERTAIN

When two persons can take a play as dramatic as "Parnell," and make their audience visualize each character perfectly, they are artists. That is what Baldwin McGaw and Emma Knox did at the Filmarte Tuesday night.

Although the play had no comedy relief, the appreciative audience sat spellbound throughout the rendition.

Mr. McGaw and Miss Knox made such rapid changes in character that one listening and watching, was scarcely aware that a full cast was not appearing on the stage.

Parnell, leader of the Irish party, was halted just before he accomplished his aims by the machinations of an unscrupulous man, Willie O'Shea.

Willie O'Shea married in his youth but he and his wife failed to agree from the start, and did not see each other except when O'Shea wished money. Parnell became Mrs. O'Shea's lover, and when O'Shea brought action for divorce, naming Parnell, Gladstone repudiated him, and he died, fearing for the policy of Ireland.

Next Tuesday evening at 8 the play readers will present, Victoria Regina.—E. F. B.

CITY INSURANCE DIVIDED WITH TWO CARMEL FIRMS

The matter of insurance for the city of Carmel has been settled by the council awarding to the Carmel Insurance association, composed of eight firms, the main policy on the fleet of cars, and to Ernest F. Morehouse the public liability policies which were due.

Decision was made by taking into consideration whether the insurance company was a board member.

The amount awarded to Mr. Morehouse was something more than $100 while the insuance on the cars comes to around $800.

The two members of the council who belong to the association did not vote on the question.

DOG SHOW SUNDAY WAS MOST COLORFUL AFFAIR

One of the most successful dog shows ever staged at Del Monte was that held last Sunday when dogs, microscopical and dogs gigantic paced in he ring before the judges.

A total of 516 dogs were shown, before 2500 spectators. Among the Hollywood folk exhibiting were Mr. and Mrs. Gary Cooper, who with their sealyham terrier won the ribbon for the best in the show; Mr and Mrs. Stuart Erwin, Charles Ruggles, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Byron, Jr., Katherine Hepburn, Jean Muir, Mrs. Jack Oakie and Miss Lottie Pickford.

Blueblooded dogs from all over the state were entered in the contest.

DOLORES PHARMACY NOW FEATURING SUMMER SET

A marvelous new summer set of Alexandra de Markhoff's preparations, comprising a box of powder, lipstick, cologne and powder base is being featured by Dolores Pharmacy, at only $2.00 as an introductory offer.

A note from New York reads, "It might interest you to know that New Yorkers are taking these sets by storm, not only for their personal use, but as a 'bread and butter' thanks for the week-end invitations."

Other toilet requisites of this brand, such as skin cleanser, skin food, rouge, and skin tightener, may be secured at the Dolores Pharmacy.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Sult left Tuesday morning for Fort Sill, Okla., where the lieutenant will attend a veterinary college for the coming ten months. He is with the marines but is required to take this work. The Sults have been located in Honolulu for some time. Mrs. Sult is a niece of Col. H. M. Gleason and Miss Nan McCormick, and they have been visiting at the Gleason home.

The Rodeo Is In Salinas but

The Oak Grove Cafe

is in Monterey

After a day at the rodeo, you won't feel like going home to eat, so why not come to Mikel's Corner and eat with Cherry?

Our food is so good we eat here ourselves . . . . . .
